

SUSTAINABILITY

- Printed products are crucial to our customers' success. To ensure quality products at a competitive price, we have a responsibility to take care of the natural resources we depend on.

At Dolan Printing, we believe forests are forever, and we are proud members of the Forest Stewardship Council®. FSC certification means we take specific steps to confirm that the forests our paper comes from are being managed to preserve biological diversity and benefit the lives of local people and workers, while ensuring it sustains economic viability.

We are also a member of the Printing Industry Midwest Great Printer Environmental Initiative, which means we go beyond what is required by government agencies in environmental, health and safety compliance. We are committed to minimizing and recycling waste, maximizing energy efficiency, and creating a healthier, safer work environment.

In addition, we are G7 Master Printers, which means we are certified in quality control techniques and industry standards that reduce waste and inefficiencies while achieving consistency and excellence throughout every project.
